

Local Weather On The News

Every day the weather changes and we try our best to predict what it is going to do before it happens.

You can find weather reporters on every news cast. Check out the weather report on a local T.V. channel.

What kind of information does the weather caster give?

How do they make their predictions?

What tools do they use to present what they know?