

Rainbow Wind Spiral

SUPPLIES:

-crayons or markers -paper plate -scissors
-string -one stone -hole punch

Its fun to watch the wind dance with the sunshine in the leaves of the trees and across grass in an open field.

You can capture that sense of light dancing with the wind by making this home made rainbow wind spiral!

INSTRUCTIONS:

- Color all over a paper plate (both sides). You can make designs, draw pictures, or color chaotically!
- Cut your paper plate into a spiral.
- Punch a hole at both ends of the spiral.
- Tie a piece of string into a loop through the hole at one end of the spiral.
- Tie another piece of string into the hole at the other end of the spiral. Then wrap the loose end of the string around the stone and spiral as many times as you can. Tie a tight knot to hold the stone to the spiral!
- Hang your rainbow wind spiral outside and watch it dance!
