

Weather Chalk Art

SUPPLIES:

-chalk

-large safe place to draw outside

-camera

Its fun to pretend about the weather.

With some chalk and a camera, you can design your own weather scene to be a photo backdrop!

On a sidewalk or driveway, use colored chalks and make large drawings. First, draw a life-size open umbrella. Then add raindrops all around it- but not under it (umbrellas block the rain). When you are done, you can pose under it, pretending to hold an umbrella in the rain while a friend takes your picture!

What other weather scenes could you draw?

Could you draw a chalk lightning bolt with a child trying to catch it, like a superhero? Could you draw a rainbow and take a photo of a child sliding down it? Could you draw a cloud in chalk and have a child pretend to sit on it and catch birds or airplanes?

TIP: If you don't have a safe place to draw outside, large paper or taped together newspaper will work too!
